Kevin Hogan Writes...

On our way to Ripley, we met Candice, DJ, Trace and Hartley to celebrate Hart's 15th Birthday in Nashville. We stayed at the Drury Inn & Suites at the Nashville airport. We went to dinner downtown and to the Grand Ole Opry. Candice and her family went to Broadway and the Opryland Hotel. While we were at the hotel, Russell became the "official greeter" for two days in the lobby. Finally, the Hotel Manager made him an official Drury nametag. They even put him on the website as a new employee. (Pictures included). Everyone knew his name.

I spent 3 days at the Ripley plant where I was able to converse with all their fine associates. I had daily luncheon meetings with Mark Strawn (GM). The fine ladies there did their best to spoil me with treats and some were healthy ;) . Thanks to Misty and Rachel for taking care of me. Thank you to Evan Hatchel (Ripley IT) for setting my computer up at the plant. I spent Thanksgiving with my local family and then headed to Loves Park, IL for my week at Corporate, weather permitting as I write this.

On a personal note: I lost two great friends in 2025. The first was Fred Cook, my Washington neighbor who would do anything for me. Never thought of himself. Fred was a "tunnel rat" in Vietnam who still had "night terrors" from his time spent there. Fred was a fixture at our house as I was at his house. Fred was cremated and laid to rest in the Puget Sound in front of our two houses in Washington. He has great company there along with: Jack, Fred Grecco (International), Lisa Grecco (Komatsu) and our good friend Rusty Burck.

The second is Gregg Franchini, my brother's best friend who grew up around our house. Gregg also worked for his dad, Lou Franchini who owned Pierce Box & Paper. What people don't know is that Pierce Packaging (Distribution) was a spin-off of Pierce Box. As a salesman I was allowed to work for both companies and reported to his dad, when I sold for Pierce Box. Eventually, Ray Pierce sold Pierce Box to Lou. Eventually, Gregg Franchini took over for Lou when he retired. Gregg sold Pierce Box many years later. After my brother Tom (Bolingbrook) passed, Gregg and I remained great friends. A big part of my life passed when Fred and Gregg passed.

I would like to wish everyone who had a Birthday in November, December and January a Happy Birthday!

We had a few milestone anniversaries in November like, Anthony Miller (Rockford) 5 years on November 9th, Lois Patmythes (Rockford) 15 years on November 12th and Kristi Taylor (Ripley) 30 years on November 13th. Kristi, we have seen a great deal of changes in our business. It seems I've known you forever.

There is a big notable anniversary, Dino McNabb (Corporate) 46 years on November 13th. Dino has been by my side for a great deal of our time with Pierce. Dino is a solid leader.

We have 3 milestone Anniversaries in December: Rosa Temple (Ripley), Willie Hancox (Ripley) and Jasmine Johnson (Ripley) 10 years on December 5th. There are two notable Anniversaries: Anthony Turner (Ripley) 12 years on December 8th and Chris Cacciatore (Corporate) 18 years on December 31st. Chris is someone I depend on for my accommodations while I am visiting Corporate. Upon the many things she does in her role at Pierce, she also makes it possible for me to participate in the newsletter.

We have one Milestone Anniversary in January: Tim Charles (Corporate) 20 years on January 23rd. We have four notable Anniversaries: Samantha Stenson and Francis Brent (Ripley) with 11 years on January 25th. Letty Medrano (Rockford) 19 years on January 29th and Mark Strawn (Ripley, GM) 23 years on January 20th.

I would like to thank everyone celebrating Anniversaries for their Service & Commitment to Pierce Distribution.

Meet Russell, Guest Service Supervisor at the Drury Inn & Suites Nashville.

Promoted for excellence in tail wags, lobby morale, and unsolicited pet therapy, Russell ensures every guest feels welcomed. His management style is hands-on (paws-on), his treats are performance-based, and yes – he works for belly rubs.

New GSA, Russel, is loving having all the guests' attention at Drury Inn & Suites – Nashville Airport! (CLICK IN ENLARGE.)

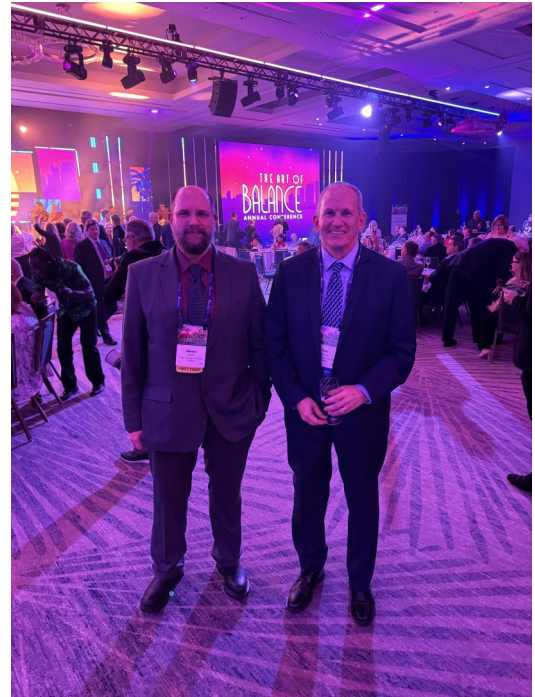

Corporate Writes...

In November, Jason Smith and I attended the AEM Annual Conference. AEM is the Association of Equipment Manufacturers, and among its members are many of the largest construction, agricultural, and mining equipment manufacturers. Pierce has been an AEM member for 34 years, and it provides our company with an opportunity to talk with executives from equipment manufacturers who are also AEM members. I am a board member of the Service Members Executive Committee, which also meets here, and it creates additional opportunities to get to know some important people.

At this event, the days are filled with informative speakers. AI was the most talked about topic of discussion, along with the economy, doing business with China, and tariffs. The evenings feature large group dinners. There are many chances to talk with executives from these manufacturing companies at each lunch, dinner, and throughout each day.

This event is very valuable for Pierce to attend, so we always take advantage of the opportunity to do so.

Started the day with a 6:30 a.m. 5 k run

Memphis Plant 3

In the Spotlight

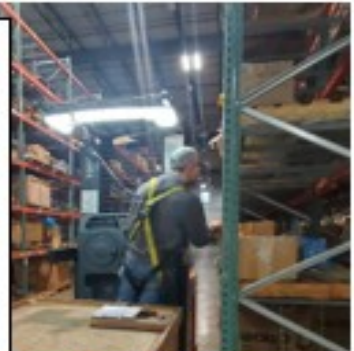

We're proud to announce that Josh Siders has been promoted to Inventory Manager/Supervisor for our Memphis Plant 3!

Josh will be responsible for managing and maintaining accurate inventory levels across the plant. He'll oversee all inventory operations — making sure the correct parts are on the shelves, counts are accurate, and our stock levels meet production needs.

Josh's attention to detail, strong work ethic, and deep understanding of our processes have made him a key part of the Memphis team. This promotion is a well-deserved recognition of his dedication and leadership.

Please join us in congratulating Josh on his new role and continued success with the team!

Congratulations, Josh!

Let's talk about Safety!!!

October is a month often associated with safety awareness, as it hosts several national campaigns focused on protection and preparedness. Notably, Fire Prevention Week typically falls in October, reminding individuals and families to check smoke alarms, practice escape plans, and reduce fire hazards at home. Additionally, with Halloween at the end of the month, safety becomes a priority for parents, schools, and communities to ensure children can enjoy trick-or-treating safely—through well-lit streets, reflective costumes, and candy checks. As the days grow shorter and the weather turns colder, October also serves as a seasonal reminder to prepare homes, vehicles, and wardrobes for the challenges of fall and winter. Overall, October encourages a proactive approach to safety across various aspects of daily life.

The lesson of the month of October is awareness and preparation.

As the season changes and daylight fades earlier, October reminds us to be mindful of transitions and to get ready for what's to come—both in our environment and our daily lives. It's a time to prepare our homes for cooler weather, check safety precautions like fire alarms, and make smart choices during events like Halloween. October encourages us to reflect and recognize that change is a part of life, and with a little planning and awareness, we can face it with confidence and care.

Let's talk about safety!!

Safety is an important part of celebrating Thanksgiving, as it ensures that the holiday remains joyful and free of accidents or harm. Whether it's cooking a large meal, traveling to visit family, or decorating the home, taking safety precautions can help prevent common issues like kitchen fires, foodborne illness, or car accidents. For example, staying attentive while cooking, using food thermometers, and practicing safe driving all contribute to a smoother and safer holiday. By prioritizing safety, families can focus on spending quality time together and creating lasting memories without unnecessary emergencies or disruptions. It's also important to keep walkways clear of clutter to avoid slips and falls, especially with more guests in the home. Make sure pets and small children are kept away from hot stoves and sharp utensils. Taking a few simple steps to prepare can help everyone have a safe and happy Thanksgiving.

Lesson of the Month – November:

Be thankful and show gratitude.

This month reminds us to appreciate what we have and express kindness to others, making our homes, schools, and communities more positive and connected.
